How are you preparing for recruiting season?

Summer is here which means so is the high season for recruiting! Are you prepared?

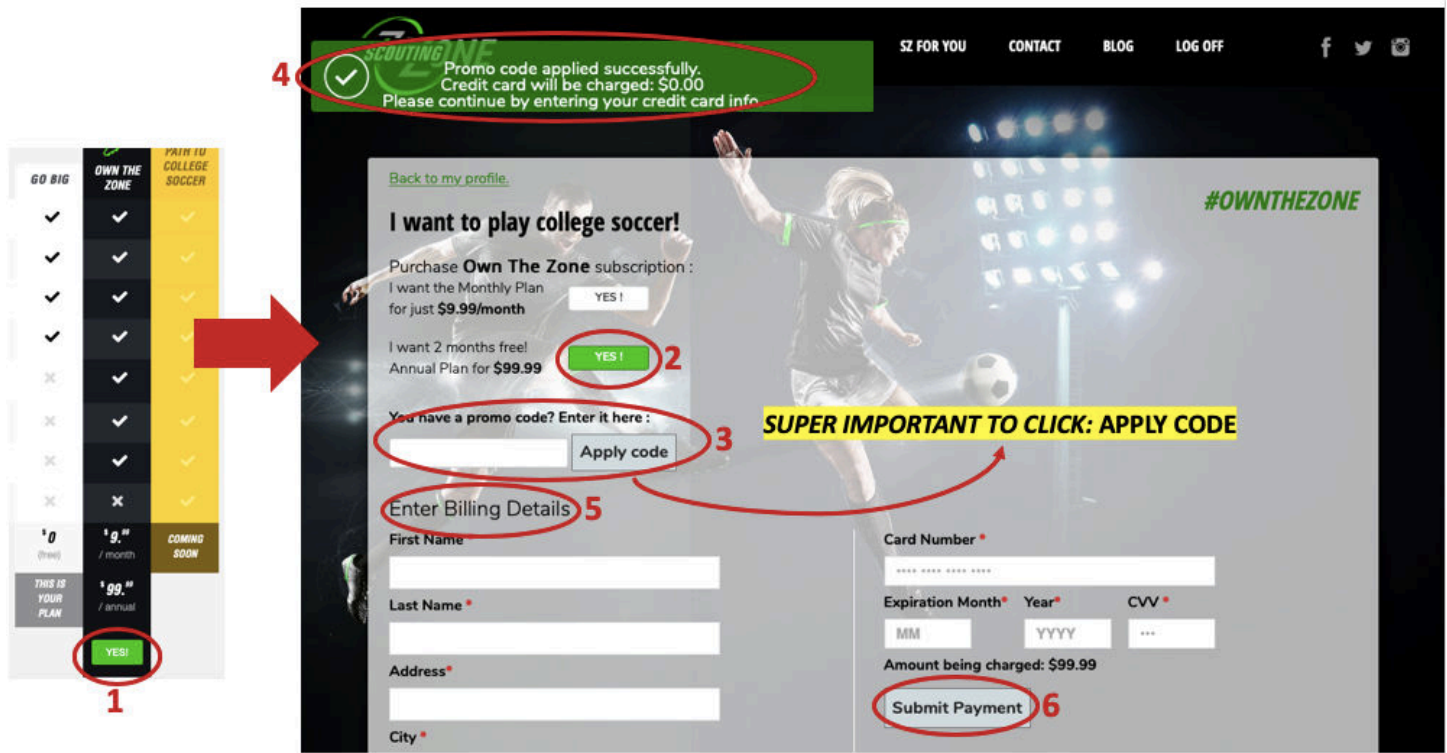

Here are a few guidelines and reminders of the top things you should be doing to prepare for your upcoming showcases and tournaments and get more college coaches to your sidelines this summer.

1. Email College Coaches (Pssst this has a massive impact) - Email college coaches ahead of your events to let them know a little more about you; make it authentic and personal by showing genuine interest in their program and why; include your match schedule; follow up post event too. Emailing is one of the most impactful ways to drive scouts to your sidelines!
2. Share Your SZ Player Profile Link - Include your SZ player profile link in your emails to college coaches so they can prep their recruiting efforts at your next event.
3. Complete Your "Top 10" Colleges/Universities - Make sure your profile reflects your current "Top 10." Coaches are notified and flagged for games that include a player playing onsite that is interested in their school/program.
4. Include a Highlight Video - You have the ability to include multiple highlight videos in your free SZ profile which are great teasers to what kind of player you are and how you will fit into their program. Give them another reason to put you on their watch list.
5. College Search Function - Spend the time to do a detailed college search on what matters most to you in a college and a program; we provide you direct head coach contact info, the athletic website, as well as financial and geographical info for every college in your search. Don't forget to use your FREE promo code (info below) to utilize this feature.

When you're not on the pitch, take this time to prep and communicate your profile and tournament schedule with college coaches. Now's the time... and it's all up to you! Keep working hard, research different college options & email coaches to drive them to your sidelines! Pssst... Here's a little piece of advice: The players that put forth effort into their recruiting, are the players that end up with the most options to play college soccer! There is a roster spot for everyone out there who desires to play college soccer. So get after it!
